Education with Impact

Daryl Shular is a Certified Master Chef, the first African American and minority to achieve this high-level culinary honor. We had the privilege of hosting him for our Chef Showcase Series, where he performed a station takeover in the dining hall and a dinner & demo for NCCU students and staff. The dinner featured some of Shular's signature dishes and a demo of the main course. Guests got to ask questions and learn about his journey to becoming one of the most respected culinarians in the world.
